MEET ME AT THE FROLIC!

WELCOME TO PARADISE!

Dear Philomath Frolic & Rodeo Fans,

On behalf of the 2022 Board of Directors, I would like to invite the community to participate in the 69th Annual Philomath Frolic & Rodeo! With everyone wanting to travel again, but ticket prices being so high, we've decided to bring a little piece of tropical paradise to Philomath with this year's theme, "Frolic in Paradise!" All the fan-favorite events are back again this year, so be sure to look through this program and go online for the full weekend schedule. We're thrilled to welcome B bar D Livestock to challenge the area's best cowboys and cowgirls as they compete for champion buckles and the title of best all-around cowboy or cowgirl. There will be three full nights of action-packed, heart-thumping rodeo followed each night with live music and dancing at the Yew Wood Corral Beer Garden. We are happy to welcome the band Slicker back to the Frolic stage!

I am excited to announce that we have renamed the annual Frolic Raffle as the "Nobody Fights Alone Raffle" in honor of Amber Henderson, director on the Frolic & Rodeo Board, mother, wife, daughter, sister, friend, neighbor and warrior against Acute Myeloid Leukemia. Amber's willingness to share her struggles with her support network reminds us all of the wide range of challenges cancer patients warriors like Amber and their families face every day.

Nobody Fights Alone is a local effort to provide financial assistance for non-medical expenses for warriors fighting all forms of cancer within Benton County. You can help support our efforts by purchasing raffle tickets this year, wearing lavender to Thursday's rodeo (lavender is the color associated for all forms of cancer), and making additional donations directly to the Corvallis Clinic Foundation Project H.E.R. which has graciously partnered with the Frolic & Rodeo to support this effort. A heart-felt thank you to everyone at the Corvallis Clinic Foundation for helping make this possible, to our volunteers that have gathered great raffle items, and to the community for your support of this new program. Search Nobody Fights Alone Philomath Frolic online for more information.

Registrations are now open for the Frolic Parade, 5K Family Fun Run, Cornhole Tournaments, Home Run Derby, Wild Steer Races, and the Lumberjack Competition (professional and novice). Don't miss any of the fun activities planned for the weekend like the Chalk-it-up Sidewalk coloring contest at the Library, the Frolic PYAC Fish Rodeo, the Lyons Club Breakfast or the Marys Peak Search and Rescue Chicken BBQ.

The Philomath Frolic & Rodeo has always been so much more than just a rodeo –it's a time for the neighbors and visitors to come together and celebrate community, summer, old friends and new acquaintances. We've worked hard to put together three full days of fun activities the whole family can enjoy, and I hope you'll join us on July 7th, 8th, and 9th right here in our own little slice of paradise.

A big THANK YOU to all our sponsors and community partners again this year. Without your support, none of this happens. Meet me at the Frolic!

Like dynamic duos of old, Dale and Tom are unstoppable in their labors to make Philomath a better place to live and we are proud to honor them as this year's grand marshals.

As long-time members of the Philomath Lyons Club, they work together on the annual book sale, garage sale, 4th of July fireworks stand, and all the Lyons initiatives that support the local schools.

Dale has served as the Park Advisory Board Chair for the past 7 years, so when the Board decided to start a summer concert series in the park, guess who got volunteered to make the signs? Yep, Tom.

Dale and Tom are also primarily responsible for the continued Downtown Flower basket program. Dale orders the flowers and contacts sponsors while Tom tracks all the incoming donations and coordinates funds with the city. They have watered the flower baskets together so many times they could probably do it in their sleep –a feat Tom suspects Dale may have already accomplished a few times in the wee early hours of the day.

They have supported the Frolic & Rodeo with Tom overseeing projects on the rodeo grounds and Dale serving as parade announcer. Philomath is a better place because of the ongoing efforts of these two remarkable men.

THANK YOU DALE & TOM!

The Philomath Frolic & Rodeo Queen serves as an ambassador of the rodeo and the entire Philomath community as she travels throughout the state and participates in events around town. The queen term is from January 1 through December 31, and next year's queen will be selected later this summer.

My name is Corbie Johnson and I am your 2022 Philomath Frolic and Rodeo Queen. I moved to Philomath in 2017 to further my education at Oregon State University. This past June I did just that and graduated with a Master's in Athletic Training. Originally from Elmira, Oregon, in high school, I competed on the Oregon High School Equestrian Team and ran on the track team. I have been riding horses since I was a mere two years old and haven't been able to pull myself away. My horse Duke, who I will be riding this year, is a 22 year old paint and is still the best horse I've ever known. He loves meeting little cowboys and cowgirls almost as much as he likes doing the flag run-in at the rodeo! Be sure to wave as we go racing by with the American flag, and say hello Saturday morning as we stroll down the street during the Grand Parade. We are both so excited for this next adventure and can't wait to see you at the 69th annual Philomath Frolic & Rodeo.

2023 Queen and Princess tryouts will take place later this summer. The dates have not been set yet. Follow us on Facebook for updates.

The Philomath Frolic & Rodeo is pleased to partner with The Corvallis Clinic Foundation to support our neighbors battling cancer.

In 2022, the annual Frolic Raffle was renamed the "Nobody Fights Alone Raffle" in honor of Amber Henderson, Director on the Frolic & Rodeo Board, Mother, Wife, Daughter, Sister, Friend, Neighbor and Warrior against Acute Myeloid Leukemia. Amber's willingness to share her struggles with her support network reminds us all of the wide range of challenges cancer patients and their families face every day.

Nobody Fights Alone is a local appeal to provide community assistance to cover non-medical living expenses for Philomath and Benton County residents fighting all forms of cancer.

It's the ugly side of the fight – the financial and emotional strain. For many patients, the cost of travel to endless trips to doctors offices, hospitals and treatment centers mounts quickly, and most of these additional expenses are not covered by medical insurance.

Survivors attest that fighting the disease requires every ounce of their emotional and physical strength. The chances for beating cancer drop significantly when energy is spent worrying about paying for the gas or the expense of food needed to feed a tired immune system.

100% of all raffle proceeds are donated to Project H.E.R., an Oncology Support Program funded by The Corvallis Clinic Foundation. Project H.E.R. works with cancer patients in Benton, Linn and Lincoln counties. The Nobody Fights Alone donation will be used to purchase gas cards, grocery gift cards, and provide other needed financial assistance for cancer patients in Benton County.

How can I help?

- Wear LAVENDER to Thursday's rodeo to help spread awareness
- Purchase LAVENDER V-neck T-shirts at the raffle stand
- Buy RAFFLE TICKETS on sale during all three nights of the rodeo
- Make a FINANCIAL DONATION to Project H.E.R. and reference Nobody Fights Alone. Click here to go to their webpage.

Why LAVENDER?

Nobody Fights Alone has chosen lavender to boost visibility and increase cancer awareness. In the world of cancer awareness, the color lavender represents all types of cancer. Because our assistance is not limited to any specific type of cancer and will touch those undergoing all types of treatment, lavender is a perfect fit!

FROLIC & RODEO VOLUNTEERS

The Philomath Frolic was started in 1953 with three couples dream of putting together a fun event for the community. In 1983, three brothers started their dream and put the "Rodeo" in Philomath Frolic & Rodeo. Today, the community comes together every year on the 2nd full weekend of July for three full days of celebration that is Philomath's biggest, most anticipated annual event.

Membership

Our membership has changed over the years, but the dedication today is just as great as it was back when it all started. Who are these people who volunteer so much time to organize and put on the Frolic & Rodeo each year? A bunch of cowboys? Hardly! In fact, few of us live on a farm or even own a horse.

What we do have is a common belief that the tradition of working and celebrating together is what makes a community a home.

Whether it's swinging a hammer or talking with business partners about the benefits or sponsorship, we'd love to have you join us.

Check out our website to learn more about volunteering with the Philomath Frolic & Rodeo at www.philomathfrolic.org/volunteers

Nonprofit Efforts

Besides putting on a fun-filled weekend of parades, activities, and the rodeo, the Philomath Frolic & Rodeo also serves as one of the communities most charitable organizations. The Philomath Frolic & Rodeo gives a portion of its profits back to the community each year in donations to youth organizations or projects that benefit the members of the community. Money raised is often donated back into the community to organizations such as the Philomath Food Bank, Philomath Youth Activities Club (PYAC), and many others.

HISTORY OF PHILOMATH RODEO

The Philomath Frolic was started in 1953 by three couples dreaming of putting together a new community celebration with a logging show, parade, dance, and other events. Through the years, various events from logging exhibitions to softball tournaments have come and gone depending on the community's interests. It was 1983 when the Skirvin brothers offered up a piece of their farm land and helped construct an arena, creating what has since been known as the Philomath Frolic & Rodeo. The rodeo attracts over 5,000 spectators each year and has been distinguished as the Northwest Professional Rodeo Association "Rodeo of the Year" eight times.

For two years, 1915 and 1916, Philomath was the rodeo capital of Oregon. Those who still remember the action in the wooden arena at the north end of 12th street will tell you that it was a bigger event than Pendleton rodeo ever dreamed of having — in those days.

In 1915, pining for the grandeur of his adopted Montana plains, R.P. McClelland organized the first Round-Up. It was a grand affair, complete with a large contingent of imported "wild" Indians and world-famous cowboys. The rodeos were preceded by a grand parade down Philomath's Main Street and up 12th street to the rodeo grounds, where the fun was begun by most of the country's best horsemen and the rodeo contestant riding pell-mell across the stadium in an event known as "the break." Following were wild races, bucking horses, calf roping, Indian dancing and various wild parties around town for the next three days. More than 10,000 spectators jammed splintery bleacher seats in June 1916 — when the rodeo peaked — to watch the likes of "Buffalo" Vernon and "Yakima" Canutt compete for top dollar prizes. World War I started later that year and the Round Up was never held again.

PHILOMATH FROLIC & RODEO RIDER'S CLUB

Membership in the Frolic Rider's Club is open to everyone through an online registration and annual fee payment.

Riders are allowed to use the arena from the Monday after Frolic weekend through October 1, weather permitting.

Riders are required to agree to a rider code of conduct and sign a liability waiver.

We are excited to be able to share this facility with the community and look forward to seeing the Frolic & Rodeo Rider's Club grow in popularity.

RODEO EVENTS 101

Bareback Riding

As they burst from the chute, the cowboy must keep both spurs above the horse's shoulders until the horse's hooves hit the ground. Then, as the horse bucks, the rider drags his spurs up the bronc's shoulders, straightens his legs as he descends, and tries to stay on for eight seconds.

Tie Down Roping

As in team roping, the calf gets a running start, with the cowboy throwing his rope around the calf's head. His horse then stops and the cowboy jumps off, runs to the calf, picks it up and drops it to its side in a move called "flanking." He must tie any three legs together with a short rope, and the horse pulls back to eliminate slack in the rope. This is also a timed event.

Breakaway Roping

This event features a mounted rider and a calf. The calves are placed in a chute with spring-loaded doors and the horse and rider start in another box adjacent to the chute. As the calf is released the rope across the horse and rider is sprung. The aim of the roper is to throw the lasso around the calf's neck as it ride out into the arena. The fastest time wins.

Saddle Bronc Riding

The cowboy must keep his toes turned outward and continually spur the horse from its shoulders to the back of the saddle. Points are awarded based on the horse's bucking action, the rider's spurring action, his control of the horse, and if he stays on for a full eight seconds.

Steer Wrestling

The credit union difference

Not for profit: Credit unions are not-for-profit financial cooperatives. We exist to serve our members, not to deliver a profit to stakeholders. Unlike other institutions, credit unions do not issue stock or pay dividends to outside stakeholders. Instead, earnings are returned to members in the form of competitive financial offerings, more services and convenience.

LUMBERJACK COMPETITION EVENTS 101

Spring Board

The springboard was the original lumberjack ladder. It was used to get above the twisted gnarly base of old growth timber. Once on top of their crude staircase they will chop 3 quarters of the way through on their strong side, but by rule, they must sever that block from the back.

This event combines the skills of the chopper and the high climber. Out in the forest this technique enables a working lumberjack to reach softer wood above the tough and knotty base of a tree marked for cutting. Contestants climb a height of nine feet using two springboard placements and chop through a 12-inch diameter aspen log mounted on the top of the spar pole.

Hot Saw

A single sawyer using a single-cylinder, single-motor power saw makes three vertical cuts — down, up and down — through a 20-inch diameter white pine log. This one-man contest is strictly against time. Chainsaws may be warmed up prior to the contest, but must be turned off before the contest begins. Neither self starting nor impulse-type push button starters nor twin motors are allowed. A starter gives the countdown and on the signal 'GO,' competitors start their saws and make the three cuts. The contest ends when the third slice is severed. All cuts must be complete.

Stock Saw

Two sawyers using identical, single-cylinder stock power saws make two vertical cuts – down and then up – through a 20-inch diameter log, competing against each other. Chainsaws are generally warmed up and tuned to be the same as one another so the only variable is the sawyers' technique. Neither self-starting nor impulse-type push button starters nor twin motors are allowed. A starter gives the countdown and on the signal 'GO,' competitors start their saws and make the two cuts. The contest ends when the second slice is severed.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED

The Philomath Frolic & Rodeo is more than just an annual event, it's a volunteer organization comprised of community-minded individuals working together to provide wholesome, family-friendly entertainment for the Philomath community's most anticipated annual celebration.

The Philomath Frolic & Rodeo is 100% volunteer run. With no paid staff, the Board of Directors oversees the budget and all the various committees that together plan and organize the Rodeo, the Frolic events, maintenance and upgrades to the grounds, charitable giving, and other Frolic-related activities and events throughout the year.

If you are ready to jump in with both feet (cowboy boots not required) or simply want to learn more, go to website below or talk to someone on the Board. There is something for everyone to do, and we love our volunteers!

Welcome to Skirvin Park

Home of the Philomath Frolic & Rodeo

Thanks to a generous donation from Paul and Lola Skirvin, the rodeo grounds are now owned by the City of Philomath which has leased the grounds to the Philomath Frolic & Rodeo on a 99-year lease. The Frolic & Rodeo maintains and operates the grounds throughout the year, including rentals for community events, corporate events, private anniversary and birthday parties, weddings and more. Make your next event happen at Skirvin Park!

Yew Wood Corral: Stage, dance floor and beer garden

The Yew Wood Corral has hosted the beer garden after the rodeo since 1984 when the 50x100 foot dance floor, concrete stage and wood fence were constructed. Family and high school class reunions meet at the Yew Wood Corral to listen to live music, dance, enjoy a cold drink and talk about the old times. In 1992, the dance floor was enlarged to 100x100 feet, making it the largest outdoor dance floor in the Northwest. In 2021, the beer garden area was extended toward the arena so spectators can watch the rodeo from the Yew Wood Corral.

The Yew Wood Corral is a community asset. It is rented out for various public and private events such throughout the year. To make a reservation for the Yew Wood Corral, arena, or other area of the rodeo grounds, visit www.philomathfrolic.org.

RODEO EVENTS 101 (PART 2)

Team Roping

After the steer bursts from the gate, the lead rider, or header, must get his lasso around both of the steer's horns, around one horn and the head, or around its neck. Then the second rider, or heeler, has to get his rope around both hind legs. If he only gets one leg, the team is penalized five seconds. The fastest time wins.

Barrel Racing

Coming from outside fencing, the cowgirl and her horse burst into the arena and follow a set path around three large barrels arranged in a triangular pattern. The cowgirl receives a penalty if she or the horse knocks over a barrel. After turning around the last barrel in the back of the arena, the horse sprints back to the entrance to record the fastest time possible. The horse and cowgirl with the fastest time becomes this year's champion!

Bull Riding

With nothing between him and the 2,000+ lb. goliath, the rider must hold on to a braided rope wrapped around the bull's chest using only one hand. If he touches the bull or himself with his free hand, he doesn't receive a score. The score is determined by how much the beast bucks and turns, and if the cowboy can stay on for eight seconds. The combination of points for the bull and for the rider are added together for a total score.

Wild Steer Racing

This event begins simple enough, but always ends with complete chaos in the arena. The rules are simple, teams of three must work together to get a young steer from one end of the arena to the other and back again—simple enough, right? Put yourself in the steer's boots: you've never been around people, let alone 2000 screaming rodeo fans, you've never walked a straight line in their life, and now you've got three knuckle heads pulling on a rope hung around your neck yelling "go!" Yah, you get the idea—it's not going to go well most of the time!

LUMBERJACK COMPETITION EVENTS

Single Buck: The competitor makes one cut through 19 inches of white pine using a single man cross-cut saw. The competitor may have a helper wedge his cut into the log to prevent the saw teeth from sticking. Time ends when the block is clearly severed. The primary challenges of this event are technique, brute strength and stamina. The single buck is referred to as the “misery whip” because of the physical toll a body endures while using it. A key strategy is to keep the saw as level as possible so that it creates an even cut and the teeth don’t catch in the wood.

Underhand Chop: In this event the lumberjacks will be standing on a block and swinging a 7 pound razor on a stick just fractions of an inch away from their toes. The jacks will chop half way through a 14 inches in diameter and 26 inches long on the front side, and then helicopter over to the other side and sever the block in two. Timing begins on the 'GO' signal and ends when the log is severed. The World Record for the Underhand Block Chop is held by Jason Wynyard set in 2006 with a time of: 15.94.

Standing Block Chop: The standing block chop simulates chopping down a tree with an axe. With a strong stance the lumberjacks will be carefully placing each hit on the front side of the block. They will then run to the back side, sending the wood chips flying as they drive their axe in to the wood, severing the block in two. Using a five-pound single-bit axe, competitors chop through a vertical standing aspen log 14 inches in diameter and 26 inches long.

2022 BEST OF THE BEST NPRA CONTRACTORS

We continue to attract the best talent around to put on a fantastic show. Our contractors have options when it comes to choosing which rodeos to work and time after time they chose to work one of their favorite rodeos in the state, the PF&R.

Announcer, Scott Allen Scott Allen is the best Rodeo Announcer you've never heard of! The world of professional rodeo isn't an easy one. It's a full-time commitment requiring personal sacrifice and a dedication to preparation. I began to form my work ethic at a young age, working beside my father in the automobile business. The best advice he ever gave me was to "Never quit, always work until the work is done, no excuses, own your own successes and failures. Learn and share! If you do that you'll always come out on top".

Those ideals have allowed me many blessings. I've been honored to work with many of the most respected folks in the rodeo and entertainment field. I've traveled all over the country, worked shows both big and small. I love what I do and expect to go on doing it for a long time.

Clint "Wolfey" Selvester. Clint "Wolfey" Selvester, one of the rodeo world's rising comedians will bring his unique style of humor from his home state of California to entertain the fans as the clown and barrelman. Selvester's love for rodeo began at age 12 when his uncle, a stock contractor who raised bulls for rodeos, hired Clint as a "feed boy" to help take care of his animals. His uncle decided that rodeo needed a mascot to entertain the fans and offered Clint the chance to perform at rodeos if he could come up with one. With the help of his art teacher, he designed and built a seven-foot high bull made from foam. The mascot was named Wolfey in honor of Wolfman, the only bull in rodeo history to score a perfect 100 in competition. Clint uses Wolfey as his nickname in honor of that mascot, which was adopted as the first official mascot of the PRCA.

Today he travels full time on the rodeo circuit, mostly in the Western United States. He has performed at the PBR Finals in the Georgia Dome, the California Rodeo Circuit Finals, the Rolex World Cup horse jumping competition, and has opened for the San Francisco Giants baseball team. He describes his humor as "impromptu" aided by what he terms "his ADD," leaving the fans to wonder what comes next.

Bull Fighter: Jason McCall, multi-year NPRA Finals bullfighter, 8-time Oregon High School Finals bullfighter, 2008 Philomath Frolic & Rodeo freestyle bullfight champion & 2012 Professional Roughstock Series World Finals Bullfighter. Voted NPRA bullfighter of the year in 2008, 2009 & 2010.

Bull Fighter: Tory Cooper, Coming from hometown Twin Falls, Idaho. Tory competed in the 2017 Freestyle Bullfight at the Philomath Frolic, so he knows his way around the arena.
